

FACTORY BREAKOUT

You wake up on a cold stone floor...

You open your eyes, but all you see is darkness...

In front of you appears a small blue flame, as you look upon this flame...

You sense melancholy...

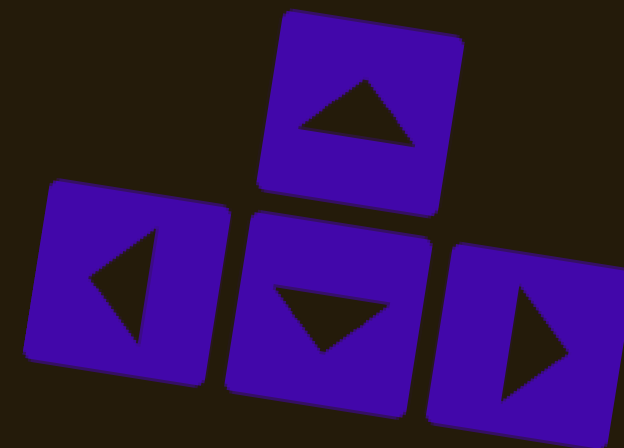

Your eyes begin to adjust to the dark...

You find yourself in an abandoned factory, you feel sorrow radiate from the walls, as though this place holds a grim past...

It's probably best to avoid confrontation with the locals here...
